Enjoy this ergonomic miracle on the BOAC Super VC 10 across the Atlantic

It's a seat. And it's the economy seat in the Super VC 10. But such a seat! It took eighteen months to design. Its first, last and most important requirement was sheer, luxurious comfort. And because these superb seats are so cunningly designed, you get more room to stretch your legs. This is just one of the many good reasons for flying by the Super VC 10 to the USA 16 times a week via London. BOAC also offers direct Rolls-Royce 707 flights to 8 North American Cities.

ENTERTAINMENT AND NIGHT LIFE IN ATHENS

There are several first-class night-clubs in Athens. During the Summer months they move to open-air premises in the suburbs or by the seashore. For a combination of Greek food and gay entertainment, the local "Tavernas" offer picturesque surroundings and sometimes "Bouzouki", the Greek popular music.

There are numerous open-air theatres and movie shows, also weekly Symphony Concerts during the Summer months held at the ancient Theatre of Herodos Atticus. The Festival of Athens presents in the Summer fine performances of Ballet, Opera, Theatre and Music, while at Epidaurus the Classical dramas are enacted in their original setting. Also during the Summer, there are "Sound and Light" programmes on the Akropolis, and Folk dances in Passalimani.

USEFUL INFORMATION

The popular Greek aperitif is "Ouzo", distilled from crushed grape stems, and usually accompanied by "mezes", or Greek snacks.

Greek wines are of good quality, the most popular being a resinated type, the red or white "Retsina". Apart from this there is a wide variety of high quality, French-type white, red and rose wines. Almost every region of Greece produces its own variety. Greek beer is very refreshing, and is always served ice-cold.

In restaurants, cafes, bars, night-clubs, etc., a service sur-charge is usually included in the bill, but it is customary to leave an additional 5-10% on the plate for the waiter, and an odd drachma or two, per person served, on the table for his assistant. One or two drachmae is the usual tip for most services.

USEFUL INFORMATION

Athens time is 2 hours ahead of Greenwich mean-time in the Summer, and only one hour ahead in the Winter.

Taxi drivers do not usually expect a tip, however one seldom takes back the odd drachma when receiving change.

The price of ordinary gasoline is 20 drs. per imperial gallon. Super gasoline is 23 drs. per imperial gallon. These prices apply to Athens, its environs, and Thessaloniki. Elsewhere the above prices are subject to increases from 50 lepta to 2 drachmas. The imperial gallon is equivalent to 4,545 litres, or 1,20 U.S. gallons. The price of diesel fuel is 10 drs. per gallon. The charge for washing a car is 35 drs. Washing and greasing costs approximately 50-60 drs.

Greece is not only a country of beauty and historic monuments; It is not only a country of golden sun, blue sky and friendly people, it is, also, a country of progress.

It reconciles admirably the past with the present, tradition with new ideas.

In all the fields of its economy, the country is in the process of developing rapidly.

In handicrafts, progress is definite, and most probably Greece will be the next country which will play an important role in supplying the international market.

The potential is there: a long and manifold tradition, abundant and cheap labor, governmental assistance and imaginative and talented crafts-men who draw ideas from the past, yet have the necessary imagination to change the traditional designs to a more sophisticated modern line.

Greece is offering a unique collection of articles for export. Things to wear, things to use in the kitchen, garden, living-room, and some things just to look at and enjoy.

The N.O.H.H. is a non-profit Organization, that was established to help Greek crafts become an important productive branch of the national economy.

The Organization coordinates the individual productive activities with the view of expanding exports of these products to various countries.

Substantial technical information is provided to the craftsmen, who are advised on modern tools, modern methods of production and raw materials. Also, new designs are provided to the craftsmen, either directly or through art books published by the Organization.
